

Intellectual Property

"Provides 'superb services in patent litigation', and acts for clients such as Qualcomm and Netafim" Legal 500

Profile

FBC has a well rounded Intellectual Property practice, providing legal counsel on the entire spectrum of IP issues - including patents, trademarks, designs, copyrights, and trade secrets, as well as on various matters involving television (including productions and TV formats), entertainment media, Internet, Hi-Tech and Life science.

The practice provides legal counsel on information system security, privacy and data protection as well as matters involving commercial cyber issues (including computer laws, dual-use technology export and cyber security regulation).

FBC supports clients in both commercial IP transactions (development, sale, licensing and settlements) and IP litigation, giving the firm the ability to provide strategic counsel which aim to avoid, as well as resolve, IP disputes.

FBC has particular expertise in the representation of companies whose primary asset is IP, in protecting the brand and IP interests when necessary.
