

Labor & Employment

Profile

FBC's Labor & Employment practice is a major player in the Israeli labor arena. It provides its clients with counsel on all different aspects of personal labor law as well as on collective Labor & Employment.

The Labor & Employment team plays a significant role in FBC's overall corporate practice, particularly in mergers and acquisitions and investment transactions in which employment issues are often of paramount importance.

The Labor & Employment team specializes in litigation of the full range of labor-related matters and appears regularly in regional and national labor tribunals, in arbitrations and mediations and in administrative proceedings.

The pervasive involvement of the Labor & Employment practice throughout the firm's activities reflects the significant degree to which Israeli law and labor tribunals regulate employment relationships and compensation and benefit arrangements in Israel.
