

Telecom & Media

Profile

FBC's Telecom & Media practice has unparalleled experience in representing leading players in each principal segment of Israel's telecom and media industries, from fixed line and mobile telecommunications to print media, commercial and cable television and radio broadcasting.

FBC represents its telecom and media clients on regulatory, litigation, corporate, transactional, labor and other matters, and because of the depth and broad scope of its representation, FBC's clients look to the firm to be their strategic business advisors and not merely their legal counsel.

FBC has the largest regulation-related practice in Israel and regularly handles legislation and regulation processes as well as regulatory litigation. FBC also handles intellectual property issues, government tenders for broadcast franchises, and has a particular specialization in privacy and defamation claims.
