

Commercial

"One of the best commercial firms in Israel, and its 'very professional' lawyers provide 'an excellent service'" Legal 500

Profile

FBC's Commercial Department has extensive experience in representing major foreign and local companies and in providing support to in-house legal departments across a full range of strategic commercial matters. The Commercial Department's legal services include: drafting and advising in connection with shareholder agreements, joint ventures and partnerships as well as in advising clients with respect to day-to-day commercial transactions and ongoing business operations, including, distribution, franchising, licensing, agency, manufacturing and supply agreements.

In addition, the Commercial Department provides full support to our clients with respect to their wholesale and retail activity, including advice with regard to matters related to the Israeli consumer protection legislation as well as representation and handling of commercial disputes with suppliers and customers.

The Commercial Department's lawyers combine their knowledge and experience in various fields of commercial practice, including experience in representing clients in commercial disputes. This distinguishes our Commercial Department and provides a superior interdisciplinary representation that best meets the complex needs of our clients.
