

Blockchain and Cryptocurrency

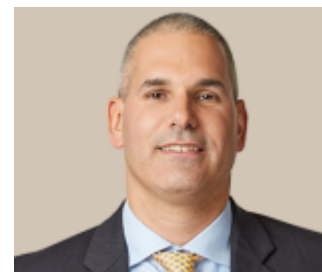

Profile

We recognize the revolutionary nature of Blockchain technology and the complex legal questions that need to be addressed in order for business, legal and regulatory players to keep up with the rapid pace of such disruptive technology. We understand the importance of guiding the various players in this constantly-changing arena.

At FBC, we utilize the broad spectrum of our practices and deep knowledge in multiple legal disciplines, to provide legal counsel on various aspects related to DLT (Distributed Ledger Technology) and the crypto-currency sphere, and the Blockchain technology, including with respect to regulatory and compliance, tax, corporate, intellectual property and privacy matters.

We provide enterprises, new ventures and investors operating in this evolving environment, legal advice, guidelines and comprehensive solutions, in cooperation with other local and foreign service providers. We advise regarding the following areas: tokenization, Initial Coin Offerings (ICO), token management and trading, investment and exchange of crypto-currencies, and more.
